FAQ's

1 - What Are European Football Trials?

European Football Trials strongly believes that every aspiring footballer should have a fair chance to show their ability and see if they can make it professionally. We know that many gifted players remain undiscovered—raw talents who've simply not had the right opportunity. We aim to offer a first chance to players who may have slipped through the net, as well as those hoping to return to the game after being released. We take pride in giving players that opportunity and opening doors. Our trials are for players aged 16–25 and are run to the highest standards. If you have talent, we can connect you with clubs across Europe, including France, England, Switzerland, and Germany. Our programs suit players who are chasing a professional career and also those who simply want to improve their game and play at a higher level. If you believe in yourself, sign up now at: www.europeanfootballtrials.com

2 - How Are You Able To Get Scouts To Watch?

We offer a genuine pathway thanks to our strong relationships with professional clubs, coaches, scouts, and club owners. At European Football Trials, our staff includes former professional players with deep connections across the football world. We have access to clubs and decision-makers that others simply do not. Our proven record of discovering talent that clubs want to sign ensures that doors open for us—doors that often remain closed to others.

3 - What Are Scouts & Professional Clubs Looking For?

Every club and scout looks for different qualities depending on their footballing philosophy. A scout may be sent by the club to find a ball-playing centre-back and will assess whether a player fits that role and could integrate into their academy or first team. At European Football Trials, we focus on three key areas of the game:

- 1) Do you score goals?
- 2) Do you create goals/chances?
- 3) Do you stop goals?

If you've mastered one or more of these core aspects, we believe you have a real chance of progressing in the game—whether that's semi-professional or fully professional.

4 - How Do I Know This Is Genuine?

Great question! We completely understand that players and parents want to be sure they're investing in a credible, trustworthy company with a proven track record. So why choose European Football Trials? Simply put, we're the best at helping players get signed. We're in regular contact with clubs across Europe and always stay informed about which teams are actively searching for players in your position. Want proof? FAQ's

5 - If I Am Good Enough Will The Club Sign Me?

Professional football is a business—coaches' jobs rely on results, and clubs are constantly searching for players who can strengthen their squads. If you're better than what they already have, why wouldn't they want to sign you? That's the reality of the game: talent gets noticed, and value opens doors.

6 - What Can You Expect?

From the moment you arrive at the trial, you'll be welcomed by a professional team with real experience in the game — former players, coaches, and club staff. At European Football trials, we believe players should be assessed in a truly professional environment. All our on-field staff have played the game at a high level. The day is designed to give you the perfect platform to show your talent while also highlighting key areas for your development.

7 - Why European Football Trials? - What Sets Us Apart

Our strong success rate speaks for itself—grassroots players breaking into the football pyramid, and current or former professionals finding their way back into the game. While the trials market in Europe, the UK, and the US is competitive, we've built a reputation for real results. Many players dream of reaching the top leagues, and we offer a genuine pathway. The opportunities are there for those with potential and determination to take that first step onto the professional ladder.

8 - What's The Schedule and How Long Does It Run For?

Each showcase offers four different packages: 3 weeks, 2 weeks, 1 week, and 3 days. Every package is designed to build on the next, offering increasing value and opportunity. Whether you stay for a few days or a few weeks, you'll experience high-quality football exposure. Full schedules and package details can be found on our website.

9 - How Do I Book Match Trials?

Visit www.europeanfootballtrials.com, scroll to the bottom, and complete the sign-up form. You can book and pay at the same time. Be sure to include your email address—our team will contact you within 3–5 working days. After submitting the form, keep an eye on your inbox for a response from us with all next steps.

10 - Refund policy - If You Are Not Able To Attend

We understand that unexpected situations—such as injuries—can arise, making it difficult for you to attend the trials. Please note that we do not offer refunds, as spaces are limited and we often turn away other players. However, if you have a genuine reason and give us advance notice, we'll do our best to accommodate you by transferring your place to a future event.

FAQ's

11 - Can You Guarantee Me A Pro Club Football Trial?

If you select the Pro Pathway or Player ID package, European Football Trials can guarantee trials with professional clubs. For other packages, players are put forward based on profiles and how they perform in front of our scouts. Only those with the quality to compete at that level will be recommended if not selected on the day. Football is highly competitive, and earning a professional opportunity is never guaranteed.

12 - What Are The Age Limits?

Players of various ages attend our trials, but since the goal is to reach first-team professional football in Europe, those between 16 and 25 tend to have the most success. That said, we have had players over the age of 26 earn contracts after performing well at the showcase—so if you're good enough, there's always a chance.

13 - Are Parents Allowed To Come And Watch?

European Football Trials has an open-door policy for parents and guardians—they're welcome to attend and watch showcase matches at any point during the event. Parents are also free to speak with coaches if they have questions. Please note, however, that accommodation for anyone not enrolled in the showcase is not included in the package.

14 - How Does My Age Affect My Chances?

While some clubs may prefer players with more experience—especially when recruiting for first teams—this isn't always essential. It ultimately comes down to your ability. Clubs want players who can compete at a high level, and if you're good enough, your age or experience won't hold you back from being considered for a professional opportunity.

15 - Is Accommodation Provided?

Accommodation is included for all players attending the showcase trials. The European Football Trials team ensures a comfortable stay by placing players in quality facilities, allowing for proper rest, meals, and recovery in a professional environment. All players must stay at the designated location, as transport to training and matches is arranged for the full group. Parents, guardians, and partners are not included in the package, though supporter packages are available at an additional cost.

16 - Who Are The Staff And How Can They Help?

The staff working with European Football Trials are UEFA-qualified coaches who have either played professionally or worked within the professional game. Collectively, they bring years of experience, valuable contacts, and expert guidance to help develop and support players as they aim to improve and reach the next level.

17 - What Happens Next If I Am Successful?

Players who perform well and show real potential will attract the attention of scouts and professional clubs. After the trial, clubs may contact European Football Trials or reach out to you directly to invite you for a private trial. Please consider this when booking your flights—clubs may ask you to stay for a longer period. The length of any follow-up trial depends on the club's arrangement, though we can often encourage a quicker decision. If successful, you'll be offered a contract and have the opportunity to negotiate terms with the club's management.
